

MEXICO OPPOSED TO LARGE MINING GROUPS

(By Associated Press.)

NEW LONDON, Sept. 15.—Suggestion as to what methods shall be employed to establish peace on the Mexican border were submitted to Maj. Gen. Traaker H. Bliss, U. S. A. Complaints of American mining interests in Mexico led to the present investigations. One of the aims of the Carranza government, it was said, was to prevent speculation in mining lands. The Carranza government virtually has reversed the system in operation during the Diaz regime. Under the Diaz plan the rate of taxation on mining claims diminished in direct ratio to the number of claims, whereas under the Carranza plan the purpose is to encourage the staking of a relatively small number of claims which actually will be operated, and to discourage the holding of large tracts of mining lands simply for speculative purposes.

Another series of complaints had to do with the attempt of the Carranza government to compel merchants and corporations to accept paper currency at a rate far in excess of its current value.

CANADIANS NOT KEEN FOR POLITICS

(By Associated Press.)

LONDON, Sept. 15.—Soldiers from British Columbia now training or recovering from their wounds in the British Isles were invited this month to record their votes for the candidates seeking the suffrage of the electorate of British Columbia at the general election. It is said there are about 40,000 soldier electors from the far western Canadian province now in Europe serving the empire and many of these are in London or its immediate vicinity. The results were telegraphed to the authorities in British Columbia.

An officer now in the trenches, who, in normal times, is an ardent politician, writes to the newspapers to point out that soldiers have other things to worry about instead of party politics. He says: "If people at home really think that our men are worrying about being temporarily disfranchised they have got the whole show in the wrong perspective. My men are worrying about rats and mosquitoes and piqueas and woolly bears and things like that, and if you took a referendum out here you would get about two replies out of a hundred—and they probably would be spoilt votes because the lads express themselves crudely at times. The things they want are home and wives and children and sweethearts and clean clothes and a bath and some English beer—quite simple things like that; not votes at all. They are quite content to leave all that to the people who are carrying on at home. When you are serving a gun day and night in a place like this it seems ridiculous to think of a Tommy worrying himself about voting. He's too busy

JAPANESE BABY CARRYING TRADE

(By Associated Press.)

TOKIO, Sept. 15.—Attention is being called here to the growing success of what is known as the "baby carrier" business between the United States and Japan. The essence of the idea is the bringing to Japan of Japanese babies born in the United States in order that they may be brought up in this country and receive their education here.

Over three thousand babies, it is estimated, are born every year to Japanese families in California. Many families are anxious to have their children reared in Japan, but are financially unable to bring the babies home. Consequently hundreds of babies are brought here by carriers. On each trip the carrier—a Japanese man or a Japanese man with his wife—brings from five to fifteen babies and distributes them in all parts of the empire, usually at the home of the grandparents. Masumi Yoshimi, one of those who conceived the carrier project, says he does not find the work troublesome. On arrival at Yokohama he engages a sufficient number of nurses to look after the babies in the train and then follows a carefully prepared itinerary. "The only danger," he said, "is mixing up the babies, but I have solved that by keeping an identification card constantly tied around the neck of each child."

The bakers may fix the price for bread and rolls, but the price of a bun is still controlled by the police department.—Dallas News.

..... sending—and dodging—death." The politicians, however, appear to think otherwise and continue working up their agitation for the political privileges of the soldier in the trenches.

BOOTLEGGER MURDERS STOCKMAN; BOLDLY TAKES DEAD MAN'S NAME

Prompt action yesterday by Sheriff Lamb and Deputy Muller resulted in the arrest of D. C. Brichoux, an Oregon bootlegger, wanted at Ontario for the murder of R. C. Goodwin, a wealthy stockman, says the Humboldt Star.

Details of the crime are lacking, nothing being known here except that Goodwin's body was found in the Snake river, near Ontario, probably some time Monday. It is believed the murder was committed last Thursday night.

The Oregon officers, after the finding of the body, secured the first clue to the identity of the murderer by ascertaining Brichoux had shipped two suitcases by express from Ontario to Winnemucca, addressing them to R. C. Goodwin, the man he had killed.

Brichoux, it was ascertained, had left Ontario last Friday, traveling in a Ford car, probably headed for Winnemucca, as he was known to be engaged in bootlegging. A description of Brichoux and the car was wired to Sheriff Lamb yesterday morning by the Malheur county sheriff, but in the meantime he had left Winnemucca, where he arrived last Saturday night. By sending out descriptions by telephone Sheriff Lamb found that Brichoux had passed Sod House on Monday night and had inquired the road to Denio. This information was immediately transmitted to the Oregon sheriff and Brichoux was captured. He confessed that he had killed Goodwin and had thrown the body into the Snake river.

Brichoux took the name of the man he had killed and when he arrived here Saturday night registered as R. C. Goodwin. He wired in Goodwin's name to the First National bank, Boise, Idaho, for $500, and the money was telegraphed to him Monday morning, being paid over without a suspicion that anything was wrong. After receiving the money Brichoux purchased 14 cases of whiskey of a local dealer, loaded it into his automobile and left town about noon, headed for Oregon. Subsequently it was ascertained that he had inquired at the postoffice and received mail addressed to Goodwin and had forged the name of the man he had murdered to a check which was cashed at a local business house.

Brichoux, it is said, is well known around McDermitt, having been there a number of times on expeditions connected with his bootlegging operations.

TREES FOR THE TRENCHES

(By Associated Press.)

PARIS, Sept. 15.—Many of the fine old trees of Belgium are being cut down for use in the German trenches. The famous Bois de la Cambre, near Brussels, is said to have lost 10,000 of its trees, and lesser parks and woods are yielding their proportion.
